

■ Home

Browse by

- Applications
- Brands
- Business News
- Organisations
- Materials
- Processes
- Search:

Go

- Email Alert
- Subscribe
- Discussion List

■ Events

■ Bookshop

News

Date of publication: 15 May 2007

Nanocomp claims first ready-to-use carbon nanotube textiles

Nanocomp Technologies based in Concord, New Hampshire, USA says it has successfully produced a revolutionary new textile material from long, carbon nanotubes.

Read related items on:

- Nanofibres

Click for Smart Textiles & Nanotechnology RSS newsfeed:

+ Add to Google

+ MY YAHOO!

- Click here to read this item in full online now. Non-subscribers: £5, $9 or €7.50.
- Click here to subscribe to Smart Textiles & Nanotechnologies and immediately access all its archives
- Click here to review the contents of the June 2007 issue of Smart Textiles & Nanotechnologies and download it online that makes the difference.

World Markets
for Technical Textiles to 2012